Giant Championship Coaching Series By Steve Witzy

Nothing but net championship shooting drills: A series of game speed shooting drills that utilize team concepts, improve conditioning, and boost the players' confidence to HIT the big shot.

Giant transition game and secondary offense: This up-tempo style of play will provide various scoring opportunities before the defense can set up. Drills to teach the transition game are shown.

Attacking the full court press: This press breaker, effective against all full court zone presses, will beat the press and provide numerous scoring opportunities.

Attacking the Half Court Press: Make the opponent pay for pressing. A basic offense that beats the half court press and provide easy scoring opportunities.

Five progressive steps to teaching man-to-man team defense:

Philosophy, progressive drills, and key teaching points are covered about the defense that has taken Ben Davis to two Indiana State Championships, a state runner-up, and four straight trips to the final four.

Giant run and jump defense: This fun and exciting defense allows your team to dictate tempo and wear down your opponent. Personnel responsibilities and wide variety of drills and rotation techniques are covered.

Championship offense: This offense is very team oriented and provides a balanced scoring attack. It incorporates set plays as well as a continuity phase while exploiting a strong inside-out game.

Zone busters: Techniques for attacking various defenses are illustrated. The principles of player movement, passing, dribbling, and screening various zone defenses are discussed.

About Steve Witzy & Ben Davis Basketball

Coach Witzy is the former Basketball Coach at Ben Davis High School in Indianapolis. During his thirteen seasons as a varsity basketball coach, the Giants, recorded more wins than any other team in the state of Indiana 266-68; 80%. The Ben Davis Giants became the only school in the 86 years history of the one class Indiana State tournament to make four straight trips to the final four. The giants finished the 1995 season state ranked at #1, nationally #10 USA Today, and won the IHSAA State Tournament. The 1995 Ben Davis Giants had the best win-loss record (32-1) of any State Champion since 1923. With an entirely new team, the 1996 Giants became only the eighth team to repeat as State Champions with a 22-6 record.

Coach Witzy is currently the Executive Director of the Indiana Basketball Coaches Association and continues to instruct and speak at various basketball clinics across the country.
